CNA PANEL DISCUSSION: TRAFFICKED CHILDREN IN THE US

CNA's Safety and Security division is hosting a panel discussion on strategies used by local communities to address the problem of child trafficking. Join us to hear how communities leverage interdisciplinary partnerships to overcome challenges such as the increased role of technology in child trafficking, the complex emotional needs of child trafficking survivors, and access to appropriate housing and services.

Thursday, August 10, 2017

4:00 PM to 6:00 PM

CNA, 3003 Washington Blvd, Arlington, VA

CNA is a nonprofit research and analysis organization in Arlington, VA.

We have a team of analysts with geographical, functional, and programmatic expertise in human trafficking policy and research.

We analyze communities in crisis – political instability, natural disasters, terrorist attacks and refugee migrations – and assess the factors that promote stability and safety.

This event is free and open to the public (RSVP required)
